Board Approves Stop Signs for Uncontrolled Intersection

SAN BERNARDINO – On Tuesday, the Board of Supervisors approved a resolution that allows the placement of stop signs at an uncontrolled intersection in the community of San Antonio Heights.

A resident contacted the San Bernardino County Department of Public Works about safety issues at the intersection of Newman Street and Electric Avenue. Officials conducted a traffic engineering study at the intersection and determined view obstructions warranted the placement of stop signs on Newman Avenue.

“When residents tell us about safety issues on roads in their communities, we listen because they are the ones who drive the roads and see the hazards day in and day out,” Board of Supervisors Chairman Paul Biane said.

The resolution adopted by the Board formally recognizes Electric Avenue as a through highway because it handles the bulk of traffic. County Code requires this designation before a stop sign can be placed at an uncontrolled intersection.
